AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The Honeymoon, New Bill to be Presented Today by the Winsome Winners' Company-Arnold Daly in a Pathe Feature.

A brand new show will be presented today and tomorrow by the Winsome Winners' Musical Comedy company. It is entitled The Honeymoon, and will be something entirely different from any bill they have thus far presented. Joe Taylor and Bob Alexander will be seen at their best, in this bill as it gives them plenty of opportunity to display their ability as laugh producers. Miss Wallace will be heard in two brand new song numbers. Abin two brand new song numbers. Ab-bot and Dutelle have a new specialty to offer and on the whole The Honeymoon promises to surpass anything that this company has yet attempted. On the picture program for today and tomorrow will be the Pathe Gold Rooster feature, Arnold Daly, supported by Jeanne Eaglels in The House of Fear. A short synopsis of the story for loose milk and ten cents for bottlee.

Ashton-Kirk is a young man of high milk. social position and great wealth; he is a deep student and learned in the lore of ancient tablets and forsotten books. His keen mind delights in those mysteries which have proven too shadowy for the police. He finds a joy in the hunt; there is a thrill in matching his intelligence against the craft of the criminal.

In Cramp's household lives Grace, his sister, Miss Hohenlo, his aunt, and Kretz, his servant. Kirk learns through his agent in Mexico that cramp's father was an expert engraver in Mexico years before, and his astute mind connects this fact with the number of Mexicans in the vicinity. He also learns that, in a time of financial stress, Cramp's father forged some currency plates for one Alva, an unscrupulous Mexican, but at the last moment failed to deliver tham. At the Cramp's father was an expert engraver scrupulous Mexican, but at the last moment failed to deliver them. At the time of Kirk's visit, the plates rested securely under a great stone in the cellar of Cramp's house, and the pedesence of the prowiling, murderous Mexicans headed by Alva was explained cans, headed by Alva, was explained by this. The perplexing question, however, was how these intriguers managed to gain nightly entrance to managed to gain nightly entrance to the cellar in their search for the plates It takes Ashton-Kirk to resolve the queer markings on the string of a package sent to Miss Hohenlo, into the message "tonight." That night Kirk and his aides wait in the cellar, as the unsuspecting Miss Hohenlo lets in her confederates. There is a big scene in which Alva and his men are overconfederates. #### CONDITIONS SATISFACTORY ON ISLAND OF GUAM

Report From Admiral Winterhalter, Commanding Asiatic Fleet.

Washington, March 28.-Admiral Winterhalter, commanding the Asiatic fleet, reported to the navy department today that he had made an investigation at the Island of Guam and found conditions satisfactory both as to the administration of the island by the naval governor and the arrangements for Interment of the German cruiser Cormorant. Later it was announced at the de partment that the Cormorant would remain at Guam Instead of being transferred to San Francisco or some other Pacific coast port as had been Admiral Winterhalter was sent to Guam from Manila with his flagship, the Brooklyn, after the department had received complaints about the conduct of affairs on the island and reports that living conditions aboard the Cormorant in the tropical climate were intolerable. His report said he would sail tomorrow for Shanghai.

HIGH RECORD PRICE FOR

FINE GRANULATED SUGAR Quoted at 7.10 Cents a Pound by Two New York Refineries.

New York, March 28.—A new high record for fine granulated sugar was established today when two refiners quoted 7.10 cents a pound for that product. The record advance was asquoted 7.10 cents a pound for that product. The record advance was astribed to the high price of raw sugar, the small supplies believed to be in the bands of local refiners and the prospects for a decreased European beet trop. ### POETRY

THE SONG OF THE SUBMARINE.

Beware, beware, for the ses is deep, and my sudden fang is the lighteing's leap, And the ships of men are frail. Oh, the hungry waves are a wicked green, Where they shelter the slimy submarine, rine, And the sea is cold and the sharks are lean, And the fleets of men are frail'

Beware, beware, for I crave to kill,
And the will to wreck is my only will,
And the ships of men are frail.
Oh, my scarlet stab is the serpent's sting.
And the demons dance to the song I sing.
For the aw of God is a threadbare
thing.
And the deets of men are frail!

Beware, beware, as you pass me by. For my periscope is an evil eye.

And the ships of men are frail.

Oh, my ghoulish soul is a livid red.

For I gloat in the deep o'er the ghastly dead.

And I glide where the preying fish are fed.

And the fleets of men are frail!

Beware, beware, as I slink abroad, For the love of man is a farce, a fraud, And the ships of men are frail. Oh, the dead men bob in the greenish waves, And the lank fish gloom in the ocean caves, But I skulk, in glee, through the clammy graves— And the fleets of men are frail! Perrin Holmes Lowrey, in Springfield

There's lots of human failure in the average of us all,
And lots of grave shortcomings in the short ones and the tall:
But when we think of evils men should lay upon the shelves.

It's time we all went out to take a walk around ourselves.

We need so often in this life this balancing of scales.

This seeing how much in us wins and
how much in us fails;
But befor- you judge another—just to lay him on the shelf—
It would be a splendid plan to take a walk around yourself.
